

CHORUS GIRL WED TO STORRS WELLS MAY BRING SUIT

Irene Bishop That Was Said to Have Joined Divorce Colony.

HAS PLENTY OF MONEY.

Youth Paid Price of Parental Displeasure by Apprenticeship in Navy.

CHAPTER I.
Irene Bishop, shapely, beautiful, in the front row of the chorus.

CHAPTER II.
Becomes the bride of J. Raynor Storrs Wells, gay and gilded actor of family of social prominence.

CHAPTER III.
Young Mrs. Storrs Wells in Sioux Falls, S. Dak., reported to have joined the divorce colony.

J. Raynor Storrs Wells's chorus-girl wife, for love of whom the young actress had paid the price of parental displeasure, banishment from Newport society, apprenticeship in the United States Navy and a fifteen days' sentence in the brig for running away to visit her, is now reported to have joined the divorce colony in Sioux Falls, S.
Dak. who was known to the "White Way" as Irene Bishop has dropped out of sight of her friends on Broadway, and a Mrs. Wells, of New York, young, handsome and lavishly supplied with money, has appeared in the community of marital misfits.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Storrs Wells who know what a shock to them was the discovery that their only son had married "only a chorus girl" have long expected a divorce.
Irene went to Europe soon after the discovery and the boy, it was said, joined the navy on the representation that his wife would never come back.
She did return, however, loaded down with money, which she said had come from the death of her mother in Spain.
As soon as the naval apprentice learned that his bride was back he overlaid his shore leave to visit her in Philadelphia a year ago last August and was court-martialed and sent to the brig.

Young Wells was determined to leave the navy, but without the influence of his millionaire father, he could not get discharged. He has nearly three years yet to serve. The enlistment was reported by society of New York and Newport as a means chosen to reach the handsome youth from his stage beauty.

A report accepted by some who know the family is that the chorus girl will be provided for most liberally and that she will obtain a divorce on the ground of desertion. Society would then have a new naval cadet, the young apprentice being terminated through influences his family can bring to bear upon Washington.

3 DEAD; 37 HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

Brakeman Supposed Responsible for Southern Railway Crash Is Missing.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Three killed and thirty-seven injured, one of them probably fatally, is the result of the collision at Rudd, N. C., last night between a Southern Railway passenger train and a freight train which was standing on the siding there. Southern Railway official reports show that one of the injured may die and that the front brakeman on the freight train, who the railroad officials believe caused the accident by leaving the switch open, has disappeared.

Both engines and two coaches were badly damaged, several freight cars demolished and the postal car derailed.
The track was cleared within a few hours.

Those killed were: J. A. Brady, of Spencer, N. C., fireman on freight train, aged twenty-five; Mrs. J. P. Thomas, Danville, thirty, wife of a freight conductor; and D. Allen Bryant, Richmond, Va., representative of a paper box company. Most of the injuries sustained by the passengers were slight.

HUNTED BEAR IN CROWD.

Policeman Knocked Ardent Out of Man Who Waved Immense Gun.

"Bring on your bears!" yelled a man at Fifty-fourth street and Second avenue this afternoon. "Roosevelt ain't got nothing on me." The shouter was attired exclusively in an undershirt and a pair of trousers and waved a revolver with a barrel two feet long.
The streets were crowded with women who fled screaming. In less than a minute the man with the revolver had the vicinity to himself.

"I'm a dead shot, I am," he yelled.
"I'm out for blood. Bring on your bears!"
A small boy found Policeman Lewis, who walked up to the man with the gun, beat him over the arm with his club, pushed him in the jaw and dragged him to the East Fifty-first street station, where he was locked up on an intoxication charge under the name of John Washcoat.
The revolver was empty.

IT TICKLED THIRD AVENUE.

What the Stage Nobleman Said of the Destitute Lady.

One bit of dialogue in a popular melodrammer running at a Third avenue theatre, always gets a laugh.
Here it is:

Maid, entering the presence of the villainous nobleman: "My Lord, there is a lady without."

The nobleman: "Without what?"
The maid: "Without food or raisins."

The nobleman: "All right; send her out and shut her in."

CROOKS GOT $3,000 FOR 'SHERIFF'S' CLUB

Old Flim-Flammer's List Had Subscriptions From Many Business Firms.

Miley and McKoon, Central Office detectives, were snooping late last night when they saw two men whom they recognized as former convicts studying the scenery about Second avenue and Houston street. On general principles, they took the pair to Headquarters.
They were George Millicent alias Graham, alias Lindeman, listed in the gallery as a pickpocket and passer of counterfeit money, and Charles Young, alias Walker, one of the old masters of the gentle school of film-flaming.

When they searched Young they found a document which may lead to further developments.

It was a paper bearing in typewriting the name of the "Metropolitan Association," whatever that is, and introducing "the bearer, Mr. George Walker," as a representative of the Sheriff's

EVANS AND HOEY BOTH IN LOCK-UP

Who Said "Old-Hoss" Team?
'Twas a Navy Lieutenant and His Friend.

RAN DOWN 7-YEAR-OLD GIRL.

Likely to Die in Hospital—Driver of Mail Wagon Escaped.

Mary Miley, seven years old, of No.
218 Second avenue, was knocked down and run over by a mail wagon today at Second avenue and Fifth street.
The driver escaped. The girl was taken to Proctor Hospital and may die.
"I am late now," said little Mary as she kissed her mother on starting for school. "I must run." The school is at Lexington avenue and Fifty-first street. At Fifth street the little girl started across Second avenue. A mail wagon was bowling along. She did not see it and evidently the driver did not see her. She was knocked down and the wagon passed over her body.

Frank Taylor Evans, a lieutenant on the battleship Louisiana, and Charles V. Hoey, of No. 251 Eleventh street, Hoboken, did a stunt last night worthy of another Diana and Hoey in their palmiest days. They boarded a cab at the Grand Central station and lurched backward in concert. Both did the trick at 30 or more, and the poor little cab was not enough for the weight.
The cab upset, and horse, driver, cab and passengers rolled in a heap.
The passengers were overlooked at the result to their joint manoeuvre, and staidly accompanied policemen to the East Fifty-first Street Station to explain how it all happened. They were so jolly that they were put in cells, the desk lieutenant refusing Evans's offer to settle damages with the cabman.
